

THE SNAGGLE-TOOTHED
DRAGON.

- Once upon a time there was a Kingdom of Dragons, in this kingdom there was a Dragon School. In this School, there was a snaggle-toothed dragon called Dave. Dave spent most of his day playing with his best friend Kallum on the dragon football pitch.

- Then, one day, whilst they were playing football a group of older dragons came over and started to pick on Dave for having snagged-teeth. They were calling him names and this upset Dave. The next day the same dragons called him names, and they did this for a full week.

- One murky Monday morning, Dave did not show up to school and Kallum started to worry. He rushed to Dave's house to find a note. The note said 'This bullying is too much, I'm leaving to live on the tallest place I can find and NEVER coming home.' Kallum became even more worried for his best friend.

- Kallum went back to school and saw the older dragons and told them that Dave had ran away due to being bullied by them. The big dragons started to feel bad and began to worry for Dave. Kallum had a plan “Let’s split up and find him then bring him back.” the bigger dragons agreed. They searched far and wide. Then suddenly, they spotted Dave on top of a giant building all alone.

- They all flew down and landed on the building next to him, “We’re sorry!” said the big dragons. “Please come home, we promise to be nice dragons.” they said. Kallum said “Please come back Dave, who will I play football with?” Then Dave gave a big snaggle-toothed smile and they all flew back to school and played football. They all lived happily ever after.
